The Golden Upgrade gives you a permanent "Golden Name" (golden theme applied to all skin settings), exclusive Golden character slot and unique Golden avatar (that can be customized with hairstyles and other forms of customization). A permanent Golden name will help players become recognized and be more useful to others. A Golden Avatar allows new players to appear as a Golden character for the first 30 days after unlocking their first character; users can choose to use their regular avatar for after the first 30 days (and still get the Golden Name). This upgrade is available to all Game Members after they complete the character unlocker. Premium Accounts Players can purchase Unstable gold accounts to play for free for 30 days (or longer). Stable gold accounts have no monthly fees for coins. The first 60 days of a Unstable gold account is absolutely free. First 100 days after that, you will get 50x Coins (for free). A fully account unlocks your character for play. *Unstable accounts can be renewed, and get the benefits of a Gold account. Players need 10 days to verify an account. Account renewal starts after that. Customization Players can customize their appearance using customization options: Characters can have long, short, and no-beard hair styles. Hair styles can be colored blue, yellow, or orange. Characters can have a beige/brown beard or no beard at all. Let players use the hairstyle and beard length for their first character. Then let them pick a new one. Players can also use a desert or woodland skin color theme for their characters. Characters can have beige/brown skin color, or lighter skin color for the first character, or the characters can all have skin of a different color. Appearance customization can be done via the Characters UI, Or by loading the Save File: In the save file, player can choose from a preset map, or a map that they design. Players can use the save file to test their custom map with the temporary character. Players can use the save file to have a gold character for the first 30 days after unlocking their character. Players can have up to 4 different character appearances that they can switch between. Players can modify the aspect ratio of their character portrait. The portrait's size can be adjusted for portrait orientation (portrait is faceup, portrait is portrait). Players can modify the character UI's font size, and the contrast between colors for the text and background

Choose from 3 game modes: Casual, Race and Shooter. Each mode features 24 thrilling coasters. Travel through a themed environments with unique updates to every ride. Travel through a forest of themed mountains, and even be transported to a magical fantasy land. Race your friends to complete coasters, and even go head to head with them to see who has the fastest laps. Shoot your opponents before they shoot you and take selfies with your friends. An epic rollercoaster paradise for all ages!

Game Features: Theme – Rollercoaster Oasis Choose from a selection of lush nature themes that you can climb and find your way through the mountain landscape. Make sure to travel through them in the correct time to earn the best ranking. Challenge – No Time To Lose Each ride features a set number of laps that you must complete in a time limit of 20 seconds. Be the first to complete the fastest lap and claim your ranking. Authentic – Rollercoaster Oasis We thought a little bit about what a real rollercoaster should look like. So, we have created 24 unique coasters with beautifully detailed environments to explore and enjoy. Friendship – Be A Host Invite your friends or even strangers to enjoy the game together by sending them invitation codes. Travel together and share your rides with them using social medias. Feel like a host in the paradise of rollercoasters. Super Fun – Be Careful We added a few game modes which will make the game more challenging. Race mode puts a lot of attention to time and makes the game only as easy as it should be. Shooter mode is a little bit more casual and is perfect to relax. We also implemented a cool tutorial mode. Take that, teletubbies! How to Play: • To start, it is recommended that you have 1GB RAM and 2GB of free space in your computer. • Have Facebook, Google+ or Twitter on your account. • Download the app • Sign in to your Facebook, Google+ or Twitter • You can also use the default Facebook, Google+ or Twitter account. • Find your friend that has also installed the app or select your friends from the players list. • Play together by selecting “game center” then just type the nickname of your friend. • When you and your friend have completed the same ride, you will be able to compete against each other as you fight for the best time. • This is how the game has c9d1549cdd

So first, lets talk about "Ratio" i suppose some people may not understand what that means but if you're a fan of racing games this is where the bulk of this game's rating comes from. Ok, Ratio is essentially the chance of a rolling over or crashing and resulting in damage (or death, in the case of a collision). The more Ratio you have the higher the chance of getting damaged and rolling over. This is also where the "Speedrun" comes into play. These are the times you get when you're on a "Shortcut" (which is usually the fastest route to the end) and your goal is to get the highest "Speedrun" of the level (and also the number of hits it takes to beat it). So, let's talk about rolling and stuff. First off, basically the way this is determined is the following; If you touch something that's "Doomed" then you get damage from it (in the case of collision). Also, whenever you roll (you get a percentage of damage to your vehicle and a percentage to your crew) the more damage it does the more ratio it adds (in the case of collision). To help further clarify, a person who rolls and then immediately stops has a 1:1 Ratio. If a person rolls and then keeps rolling because they aren't hit by anything (other than the head) then it will add ratio. So, to break it down more..An extreme example is of course a collision with a wall that sends you to your death. If you collide with this wall the ratio is 1:1 and this results in complete collapse (Rolls, Death) Then lets talk about the speedrun aspect, if you roll before getting hit by anything, again, you get 0 Ratio. But once you actually do get hit, if you hit something which is 100% doomed, it will still add ratio (basically, this means it doesn't matter how fast you are if the car is hitting something that is 100% doomed it is still going to add damage). So, to sum this up a bit; The higher your speedrun is, the less likely you are to get hit, and therefore the lower your Ratio. So basically if you go really fast you won't get hurt as much, but you still will end up dying. This game is the first game that I've played and the second Japanese Shooter RPG on my NGP. And I am impressed. Is there a story line? Of course not, but the game

Room The Unique Role of Monopoly Man William Hagen Monopoly and its various imitators have a long and distinguished history. It began with Charles Darrow in the 1880's and flourished until the late 1940's with many imitators developing at that time, including Darrow's own Our Monopoly, Carlo R. Tambellini in 1940, Paramount's Empire Game in 1941, and the gold-plated Monopoly produced by Heller-Hanley in 1943. The San Simeon board manufactured by the Van Nuys company, invented by Philip Foster in the late '50's and dedicated to Jap Santosuosso, the god of speed, of course, was a short lived '69 design that didn't last long. Even the games created by Parker Brothers had four of their own design, including Girl's Interne, which didn't last long. Darrow's original Monopoly was fun and exciting but as enjoyment waned over the years, the play patterns became more predictable and in the early '80's, the copyright on Monopoly was supposed to be protected by law, so, to ensure their continued profitability at a law suit, Parker Brothers didn't produce any variation of the game in the years following the '82 copyright. They have acquired more than one subsidiary company, as well as divisions related to the game, the most recent of them being Hasbro. Monopoly Game System is owned by Winkler-Johnson, Parker Brothers, and although their Monopoly is the same game as Parker's they enjoy the copyrights, monopoly on the system, and keeps it as a separate operation rather than merging it with the company. I am always amazed and sometimes disappointed by the negative vibes I get when people state, "they were just as hardworking, energetic people as me" or "they never made it and I will too." This negative attitude, as I see it, should never exist because it would mean you don't have much to be jealous of and it is definitely a sign that you should be doing something different, despite your past successes. People very much like the idea that someone else could move ahead, so don't get me wrong, there is nothing wrong with being a winner, but at the same time there are even winners and losers out there that deserve to be happy. The competition is what makes the game fair and fun, otherwise it's unfair. No one sees their life as a straight line to failure. There are
